Around our World

in One Hundred and Eighty Days

Our world, for the some 180 school days of the year, is Emmerich Manual High School — classes, teachers, fellow-students, and activities. Most of our waking hours are spent preparing for or attending school, and much of our “leisure” time is included since school-related activities and social events are our favorite pastimes. During our four years of high school, Manual is truly “our World.”

The Outside World

Since the one newspaper we all read is our own "Booster," WMHS, Manual's radio station, produces a newscast each day on the "Morning Show" to keep us in touch with the outside world. Of course, we do rub elbows with our community when our activities overlap. The Board of School Commissioners selected our building as the site for a city-wide reception in October for Mr. George F. Ostheimer, new superintendent of Indianapolis schools.

Touches Our Manual World

Hundreds of our parents and patrons visited us during our National Education Week Open House. Our ROTC and Marching Band participated in parades—Armed Forces Day and “500” Eve (May '59.) Vocal groups performed for community functions, and other representatives from both student body and faculty represented Manual as participants or guests in civic and social activities. Our “Booster” goes far and wide on an exchange basis as an envoy.

On the Air every morning is Charles Shade, news commentator for Station WMHS. Bob Lloyd is engineer.

Gloria Coverstone rides atop the race car on our float in the “500 Parade.” ROTC marches in the Armed Forces Day Parade.

Superintendent George F. Ostheimer greets Mr. Harold Pagel.

Youngsters at Open House were fascinated by maneuvers of Disc Jockey Dale Smiley, and many mothers visited Mr. Victor McDowell and the Auto Shop.

Long hours spent in the library absorbing information from piles of books, magazines, and encyclopedias is the plight of the advanced English student working on a research paper. Here, Carol Hoeping digs out facts for her paper on "The History of Railroad Transportation" for English V.

Operating the master console, which channels tape-recordings to students in the booths, is Mr. Millard Arnold, French and Spanish teacher. Students, with the aid of headphones and microphones, can listen to native speakers and pattern their pronunciation after them.

Transporting texts from the bookstore to their literature class for distribution to fellow students are Dick Cummins and Jim Bedwell.

We Break Through

With twenty-one teachers, our English Department has the distinction of being the largest department at Manual. Because of the new four-diploma plan, English has become increasingly important. Eight semesters of English are now required for students working toward an Academic or a Fine-and-Practical-Arts Diploma while others are required to complete six semesters. Competition among English students is keen; and various contests—such as short story, poetry, and essay—are set up within the department to promote creativity in English. On English Honors Day, an annual spring event, outstanding students are recognized and awarded prizes for their contributions. In outside competition such as the Indiana University Regional English Exam, six students represented Manual, four of whom went on to the finals at Bloomington.

Studying about types of businesses by forming a corporation and selling a product, investing in stocks and charting their progress, and working on mental-health projects, students in the Social Studies Department are putting to use knowledge gained in classes such as economics, psychology, and international relations. An appreciation for our American heritage is fostered by departmental awards such as The Human Liberty Award, presented annually to five seniors.

Language Barrier

New this year is our Language Laboratory for use in the teaching of modern languages—French and Spanish. Thirty-four booths equipped with microphones and headphones enable pupils to hear tape-recorded lessons and allow them to hear themselves recite. A master console at the front of the room, situated on an elevated platform, enables the instructor to have a view of all pupils. He may plug-in each individual for private listening and instruction. Five of the booths are also equipped with tape recorders which all pupils have the opportunity of using. In this way they can make recordings of their own pronunciations and thus help in diagnosing their individual difficulties. Tapes, commercially produced, are also used to enable pupils to hear first-hand the language being studied as spoken by a person for whom the tongue is native.

Participating in "Operation Gift Lift for Mental Patients," students Rosemary Eads, David Switzer, Bob Burton, and Mitzi Muse wrap and label gifts on an assembly-line set-up. Inspired by their psychology-class study of mental health, the students raised money to buy the gifts for patients.

Mr. Arnold instructs student Shirley Holman in the use of controls for the Language Laboratory. The press of a button enables the instructor to tune in on all 34 booths simultaneously or only one booth. In this way, instruction can be geared to the individual student.

Missiles, Satellites Step Up Science Interest

Weighing out wood chips as he prepares an experiment to change raw wood into pulp for paper is Willie Dishon, a student in Mr. Wayne Dunbar's Chemistry II Class.

With satellites and missiles cluttering the sky-ways and increased pressure being placed on American scientists for greater scientific achievements, more attention is being directed to the high-school science program. At Manual one year of biology plus a year of either chemistry or physics are now required for students working toward an academic or a fine-and-practical-arts diploma. Spurring students on to individual achievement in science is the annual Science Fair in which students prepare projects for exhibition.

Participating in the Regional Science Fair on April 2 were Darlene Stratton, Martha Goode, Evelyn Lowe, Tom Fink, Mary Neeson, and Jan Stephenson, whose entries ranged from an analysis of inhaled and exhaled oxygen to the effect of acid on the rate of tooth decay. In the biology area, a small zoo, inhabitants of which included guinea pigs, an alligator, salamanders, turtles, toads, snakes, mice, and carp, heightened students' interest in animal-life. Students were given the opportunity to observe feeding and molting habits of the animals and to personally care for them.

Students Carol Moore and Kenny Green supervise lunch-time for guinea pigs Cavia and Porcellus, two members of the biology department's zoo. The guinea pigs are fed lettuce and celery tops.

Observing and being observed are Sandra Holler and Bill Toney, students in Mr. Edward Wall's Biology I class. The alligator and two turtles, part of the marine-life collection, await feeding.

Business Education Prepares Us for Jobs

Manual's Business Department boasts a higher enrollment of students in business courses over any other high school in the city. Choosing from a wide range of courses, Manualites are gaining a broad background in the business field and are stepping into good jobs after graduation. Office Training, an advanced course, gives training and experience in operating office machines. During the first six weeks of the course, students learn to run the mimeograph and ditto machines and to operate the dictaphone. The last 12 weeks of the semester, the students really go into production. Stencils and masters of final tests for teachers of various departments are typed and duplicated. Copies of the class history, will, and prophecy are also reproduced for members of the Senior Class.

Demonstrating the speed and accuracy which brought her first-place honors in the Business Department's semester competition is Judy LaRue. Judy typed 71 words per minute with only one error to win the coveted gold pin.

Fine Arts, Crafts Keep Our Artists Busy

Sketching a still life, shaping a bowl on the potter's wheel, or dabbling in water colors, students in Manual's Art Department have many opportunities for developing skill in art. Courses offered are Art I-VIII, Jewelry I-IV, Craft Arts I-VIII, and Art Production.

Art teacher Mr. Robert Crawford demonstrates proper shading for still-life compositions for student Bonnie Tague.

In the Art Production class, students design posters in competition with one another for such activities as the operetta and the Redskin Revue. Winning Revue poster for 1960 was Dick Listenberg's while Rodney Wade's design served as the cover for the Revue program.

Developing the United States on a hand-hooked rug is Mike Lewallen, a student in Mr. James Guillaume's craft-art class.

Domestic Skills Set In 'Home Ec Labs'

Every girl looks forward to the future and the time when she will have her own home. Girls at Manual have a chance to learn the skills of homemaking in home economics classes. Foods, clothing, and social living courses prepare the students for the problems of making a house a home. In the classes the girls learn to make their own clothing and clothing for other members of their families. They learn to plan well-balanced, nutritious meals and to serve them attractively. Planning teas and parties, setting tables correctly, and practicing good grooming are among the things emphasized in Social Practice classes. The girls work in colorful labs equipped with the latest modern appliances. At luncheons and teas at Manual, the girls may be seen practicing their newly-acquired skills. All of the activities of the Home Economics Department give girls the experience and training that will aid them in their careers as homemakers.

"Glendora" models a crisp formal made by Marilyn Walker in Mrs. Barbara Anderson's Senior Clothing class. This showcase is kept filled with teen styles made by the girls.

Guests help themselves to coffee and donuts prior to participating in various sessions for Opportunity Day on January 13. Keeping the refreshment buffet stocked are girls from home economics classes. Also assisting during the same day were boys from foods classes who donned chef hats to serve a steaming luncheon to speakers in the cafeteria.

Industrial Shops Serve as Apprentice 'Stage'

When Manual was founded in 1895, it was principally a high school for training industrial students. In later years more emphasis was placed on academic work until now Industrial Arts is just one of many departments and Manual is a fully rounded high school. However, the school still maintains one of the most efficient and up-to-date shop departments to be found anywhere. Shop courses are offered as electives to boys wanting manual training. Boys majoring in shop must take at least two years of mechanical drawing in addition to their regular shop. During the first two years, they have courses in all phases of shop work; the last two they may specialize in a particular shop.

Mechanical Drawing is offered for four years; Architectural Drawing is also given to those planning to pursue an architectural occupation. Students in Print Shop learn to set type and proof-read. This shop does school printing, including office forms and novelty jobs as posters and tickets for various occasions.

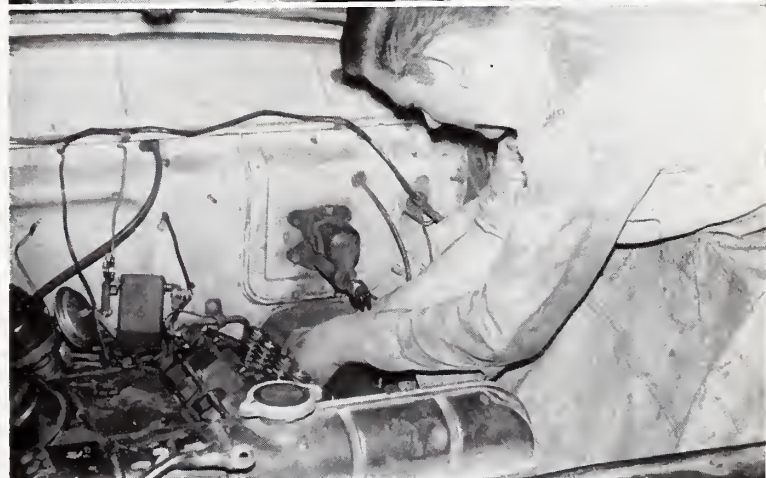

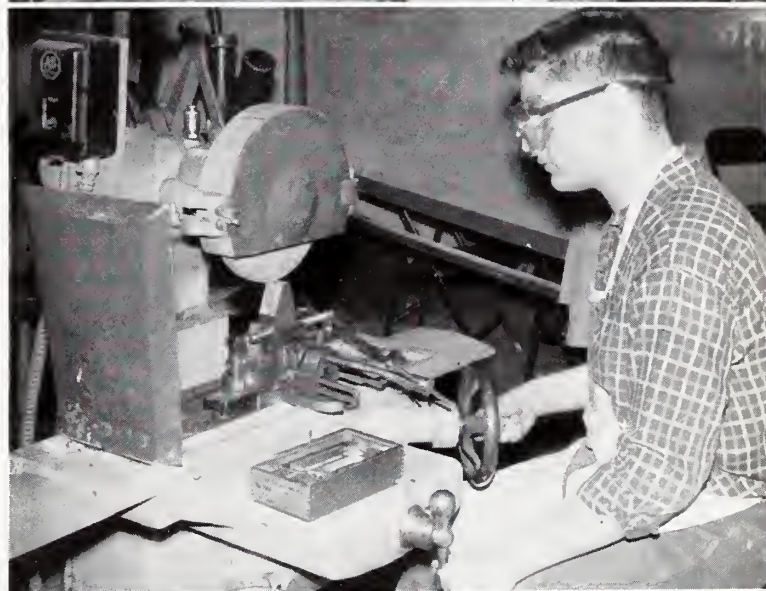

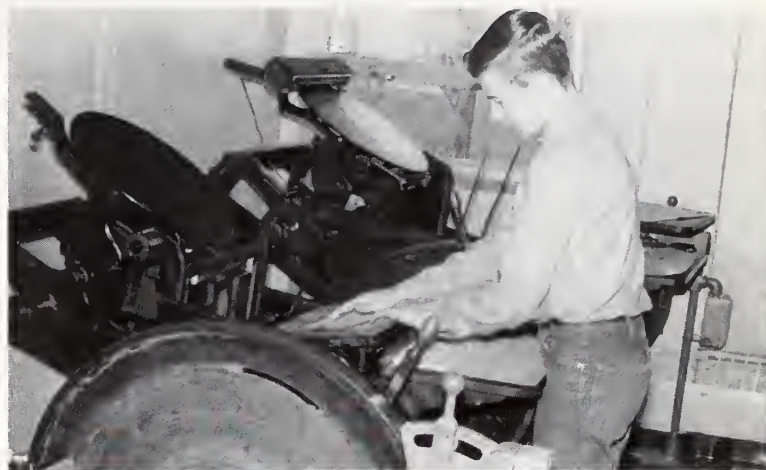

All boys start with Wood Shop where they gain experience using equipment new to them. Both Metal Shop and Machine Shop serve as good training for boys who want to have apprenticeships once they graduate from high school. In beginning Electric Shop, boys learn how to wire houses and cars and to use basic equipment. Later they repair radios, televisions, and other electrical appliances. Advanced classes do extensive work on electrical research, building radios, televisions, and oscilloscopes.

Auto Shop is only open to juniors and seniors. First year students take a survey course on how to care for cars, and they begin to work on engines. Advanced classes learn the standard and automatic transmissions by working on ones donated by automobile companies. These boys set up an Auto Shop "garage" and do repair work on their own cars, as well as cars of "willing" faculty.

Alan Hale "feeds the press" in the Print Shop as he prints up a set of nativity cards, an important job for the office.

Wearing goggles to protect his eyes from flying bits of metal, John Weise works on a precision tool in the Machine Shop.

Donning coveralls like a true mechanic, Darrell Dean seems at home under the hood of his car. He's a protege of Auto Shop.

Grads Return for Seventh Homecoming

Present and past Manualites celebrated the seventh annual Homecoming on September 25 at Delavan Smith Field with the Redskins host to Howe. In the pre-game ceremony, Principal C. Edgar Stahl recognized the 25-year lettermen. The fact that Howe commanded a slight 14-7 lead at the half didn't dampen the enthusiasm of the capacity crowd during the gala halftime ceremonies. In the Block-M formed by Manual's Redskin Marching Band, Feature Twirler Marilyn Burge performed with fire batons, and Indian Mascot Nicky Ferris did an authentic hoop dance with fire. Jerry Isaacs, '59 grad, returned to once again ride his Indian pony, Buck, with the band. All candidates paraded around the field in convertibles and freshmen football players, John Evans and Jim DeHoney, rolled the carpet onto the field. Last year's royalty, Ron Miller and Sonja Keating, crowned King Manual VII Bob Cooper and Queen Sue Hawley. Papoose crown-bearers were Chuck McLinn and Christine Mueller, smallest Freshmen boy and girl. The close-fought game ended with a Howe victory, 20-13.

Ready to roll out the carpet for the 1959 Homecoming King and Queen are freshmen football players, John Evans and Jim DeHoney. Providing a motor escort for freshmen papooses, Christine Mueller and Chuck McLinn, are Steve Smith and Al Ratz.

In the Homecoming spotlight are the new King and Queen, Bob Cooper and Sue Hawley, crowned during the half-time ceremonies by last year's King and Queen, Ron Miller and Sonja Keating.

Seniors 'Play the Roll'

Suits, high heels, and "best" dresses were the order of the day on October 21 as the largest Senior Class ever took part in traditional Senior Day. Seniors were "marked" with roses, armbands, and ribbons in class colors, red and white. During Home Room, class officers took part in the color code program, and in the auditorium after school Principal C. Edgar Stahl presented the senior gavel to Ed Zaenglein, president, to begin the first Senior Class meeting. A party in the cafeteria ended Senior Day activities.

As part of the observance of American Education Week, seniors were selected to fill administrative and staff positions on November 10. This annual activity has been dubbed Turnabout Day and its purpose is to familiarize students with the school's operation and give them an understanding of all the jobs essential to the school. Each student learned as much about his position as he could during his "day on the job." After school, teachers and their "aides" were treated to a punch party in the Social Practice Room by the P-TA.

Jan Small, principal for a day, gets the inside story on an administrator's many duties. Principal C. Edgar Stahl points out one of them—answering letters, and Jan gets a bit of practice in dictating to a secretary.

Cokes and pretzels coming up! Sue Hawley and Jan Small prepare refreshments for classmates on Senior Day, during the after-school party in the Cafeteria.

Serving punch to Vice-Principal Noble Poole and his stand-in, Charles Mercer, is Carolyn Ibaugh, acting head of the Home Economics Department. Assisting at the tea, sponsored by the Manual P-TA, is Mrs. Orville West.

'Sharp' ROTC Cadets Take Top Honors

Major General George E. Bush presents Cadet Colonel Walter Oliver, a fifty-star American Flag for placing second in the Veteran's Day Parade. Captain Robert H. Hoisington looks on.

Members of Manual's ROTC Battalion act as messengers, ushers, doormen, and guides at Open House and other school meetings, and as guards at the Redskin Revue and home basketball games. Before school functions in the auditorium, the cadet Color Guard posts the Colors. ROTC members care for the school flags and see to it that the Stars and Stripes fly over the building each day.

Cadets may join the ROTC History Club in which they study the military history of the United States. Members read a required number of books from an approved list and attend monthly lectures. Others may be members of the Rifle Team or Drill Team. Thursdays and Fridays cadets are in uniform, and on Fridays stand inspection by one of the six honorary cadets. These red-and-white-clad girl officers rotate inspection duty.

For ROTC members, the highlight of the year is the Military Ball. This year's Ball was March 11, in the cafeteria. Candidates for Queen of the Ball are the six sponsors and eight girls nominated by cadets from the school at large. Queen Tommy Sue Janke led the grand march with Cadet Colonel Walter Oliver.

American and Manual flags, made from paper flowers, provide a patriotic background for the crowning of Military Ball Queen Tommy Sue Janke. Officiating at the crowning are Principal C. Edgar Stahl; Pat Brown, former ROTC Sponsor; Queen Tommy Sue; Laqueta Hines, also a former sponsor; and Captain Robert H. Hoisington, honor guest.

Kiwanis Award Honors Band

Manual's top-rated Redskin Marching Band won the Kiwanis "Most Outstanding Football Band" award for the sixth consecutive year; Manual's band has won this top award every year since the program started in 1954. Manual was also selected for the award, "Most Outstanding School Spirit and Cheerleading"—and this for the third time. Our cheerleaders were awarded small gold megaphones which they wear on chains around their necks. The band, decked out in sharp crimson and blue uniforms, performed many intricate routines during half-time shows at football games. They also earned a first-division rating at the Indiana Schools Music Association Marching Contest. They were the only band to receive a perfect score from every judge. The marching band becomes a concert band in the winter. It was awarded a first-division rating at the Indiana High School Music Association Contest, April 2.

Indian Mascots Sue Hawley and Nicky Ferris added color to the cheer squad. Sue became a virtual Manual trademark because she seemed to fascinate photographers.

Redskin Band is participating in a parade in downtown Indianapolis. In December the band greeted Santa and marched in the Downtown Merchant's Association's Christmas Parade that officially opened the season.

Mask, Wig Stages 'Side-Splitting' Comedy

Measuring Mr. De Pinna (Kenneth Huston) in "heads" is "artist-playwright" Penelope Sycamore (Mary Ella Beeman) in Mask 'n' Wig's "You Can't Take It With You."

"You Can't Take It With You," by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, was the three-act play presented by Mask 'n' Wig, Manual's drama club, on October 17. The play takes place in the home of the Vanderhofs where each person is an individual. Penny Sycamore (Mary Ella Beeman) is a play writer, Essie (Sandy Robison) thinks she is a great ballet dancer, Essie's husband, Ed (Agris Petersons) plays the xylophone and writes socialistic propaganda, and Paul Sycamore (Fred Kortepeter) has a firecracker factory in the Vanderhof basement. Director of the play was Mrs. Mildred Haskens, club sponsor. Student director was Jo Anne Spears. To publicize the play, the "You Can't Take It With You" Treasure Hunt and a "Love Dream" Candy Contest were staged by the club. Clues to the whereabouts of the Treasure were broadcast each morning on station WMHS. Play ticketholders were invited to a dance in the cafeteria after the performance where a disc jockey was on hand to play records for dancing. Mask 'n' Wig members also produced a one-act play, "Spreading the News," on April 1. Two other one-act plays were presented that night: "Jacob Comes Home" by the Thespians, and "The Affected Young Ladies" by the Manual faculty.

"Dinner is served," says Rheba (Mary Winstead). Ready for the meal are Grandpa Vanderhof (Dave Switzer), Tony Kirby (Charles Shade), Paul Sycamore (Fred Kortepeter), Olga Katrina (Winnie Manwaring), and Penny Sycamore (Mary Ella Beeman).

Musicians Produce 'Beautiful Dreamer'

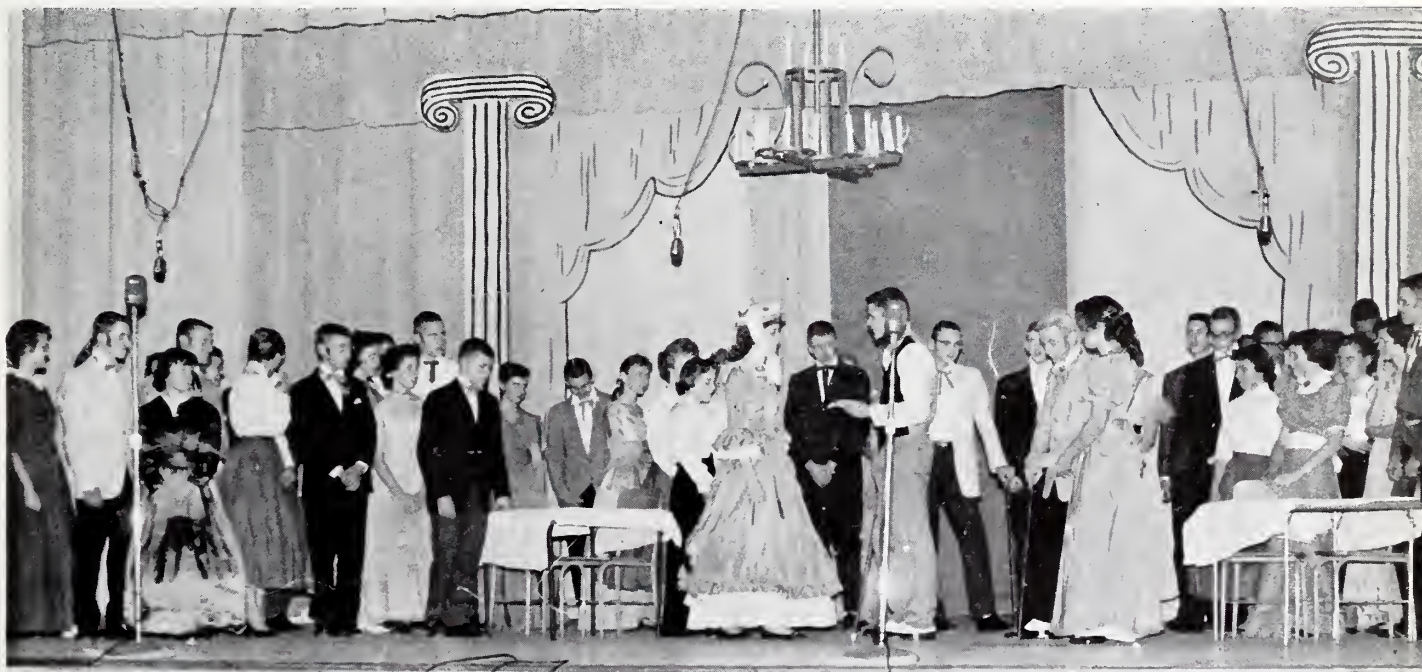

"Beautiful Dreamer," by Julian Gray, was the operetta presented by the Manual Choir on November 20. Covering the life of Stephen Foster, the story opens in a modern Louisiana ball room. Stephen Foster's music is being played with one difference—it has been "jived up" considerably. The second act reverts to Stephen Foster's time, the early 1800's; and it shows this famous song writer composing many of his well-known melodies. Cast members sang a total of twenty-three songs. The fact that each of the two acts had seven scenes kept the stage crew busy.

The role of Stephen Foster was portrayed by Stephen Brownlee. Stephen's mother was Evelyn Lowe; Mr. and Mrs. Covington were Bob Wetzel and Linda Shaw. Others having leading parts were Agris Petersons, Janis Small, Thelma Dick, and Rex Anderson. Other members of the Choir made up the choruses. The orchestra, directed by Miss Margaret Warner, provided the instrumental background for the famous songs and melodies.

Our orchestra, directed by Miss Margaret Warner, moved to the "Pit" to accompany singers in the operetta.

Jane McDowell (Thelma Dick) receives information about the death of Stephen Foster from Melbourne La Belle (Rex Anderson). The scene takes place in a night club where friends of Foster often gathered.

Seniors Joan Scholl, Lois Helfenberger, and Sharon Bascy put finishing touches to the "newspaper" tree in The Booster Office.

At Christmas time, Manualites go "all-out" for seasonal decorations. Traditionally, Roines hangs a huge wreath above the main entrance, and the Junior Class decorates a floor-to-ceiling tree in the main hall. Department offices boast small trees, the cafeteria has a culinary-decorated one, and the Art Department fills its display cases with Christmas projects. Glee Club, Choir, and Orchestra combine for an all-school auditorium program to start us off for our Christmas holiday with true Yule spirit.

Decorations, Programs Foster Spirit

Mr. Wendell Mertz, director of the Choir, conducts a combined chorus made up of the Choir and Glee Club in a group of Christmas numbers for the pre-vacation auditorium. The program was highlighted by colorful tableaus, dramatizing the selections. The same program was presented for the December Parent-Teacher Association meeting.

'Booster,' 'Ivian' Promote School Activities

Ivian staff members became space-minded in their campaign this year and shot a student-filled rocket to the moon. The "moon-men" were psychic and told Manualites about their forthcoming Ivian. Staff members were kept busy following up and adding to the "moon-men's" predictions. Plans, as usual, were started at Indiana University High School Journalism Institute last summer; but unpredictable happenings during the year always necessitate changes.

New this year was an essay contest sponsored by The Booster, Manual's weekly newspaper. Many students entered essays, "Explaining America to a Russian," and the three winning ones were published. The Booster again sponsored a safety campaign. A code of safe-driving was set up from student suggestions, and an auditorium program encouraged Manualites to be safety-minded. The Booster rated All-American from National Scholastic Press Association and "Medalists" from Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Both are top honors, and both are won consistently.

Booster Editor John Hershberger presents a Fifty-star Flag, first prize in The Booster essay contest, to winner Larry Rohrman. Phyllis Engleman and Diana Vaughn, who won third and second places, respectively, look on.

Moon-men, who have copied Manual letter sweaters and say the "M" stands for Moon, are shown discussing the "things to come" at Manual with students who have just landed on the moon in a rocket made in an advanced physics class. This was the gist of the plot for the auditorium skit presented as a send-off for The Ivian's subscription campaign.

Mr. Frank Blanning, Hanover College, and Mr. Marvin Cave, Eli Lilly's, guest speakers, register with John Bennett, Bob Cooper, and Sharon Basey.

Freshmen and sophomores learned about various careers, and juniors and seniors heard about college and terminal education opportunities. Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, Optimists, Soroptimists, Altrusa, Business and Professional Women—all service clubs provided the speakers from business and industry, while speakers for the various colleges and universities came from their respective schools. The college representatives explained about entrance requirements and college life. Other speakers covered electronics, nursing, business administration, interior decorating, and numerous other fields.

Many of these persons return year after year to assist with this guidance program and feel quite at home at Manual. All speakers are entertained with a coffee hour served by pupils in a home economics lab before their sessions, and many stay and have lunch in our cafeteria. Chef-capped waiters from Boys Foods look after their wants.

Student Nurse Mary Iannuzzi, Manual '57, and Miss Martha Akers, supervisor of student nursing at Indiana University Medical Center, discuss their day's assignment with Sherry Braun, a student guide.

55 Guest Speakers Aid Future Plans

All Manualites participated in the fifth annual Opportunity Day program, January 13. On Opportunity Day fifty-five guest speakers from Indiana businesses, industries, colleges, and universities helped Manualites in their choice of a college or vocation. Preparation for Opportunity Day began last December 2. Mr. C. A. Gillespie, from the Allison Division of General Motors, was the speaker for an auditorium program. Then in Home Rooms we were guided in selecting the field or school we wanted to learn more about. On Opportunity Day each student attended a session to hear a speaker of his choice.

All teen-agers like to dance and Manualites are no exception. Dances of all kinds are interspersed throughout the year from informal after-game dances to the climax of them all—the Senior Prom. This year's dancing season opened with the "Pigskin Prom," honoring the football team. At the "Pic Parade" underclassmen exchanged "chums" and King Ivan and Queen Ann were crowned. The new semester began with the Glee Club's traditional "Cherry Tree Hop" where "Martha" and "George" reigned. The Military Ball, an annual formal affair for cadets and band members, was March 11. After many home basketball games, fans gathered in the cafeteria for dancing, sponsored by the Student Affairs Board. The Juniors' big dance was the Junior Prom, April 22, at Butler's Ather-ton Center. Ivians are always distributed at the "John Henry Hop" where autographing is the order of the day. And each Senior Class closes its years at Manual with a Prom. The Class of 1960 celebrates at the Medical Center.

'A Dancing We Go' at Every Opportunity

Don Shotts and Bonnie Spreen, crowned "George" and "Martha" at the annual Cherry Tree Hop, given by the Gir's Glee Club, are seated on their "thrones." They were elected from eight senior candidates, nominated by Glee Club members. This semi-formal dance has become traditionally a turnabout evening for which girls invite boys and foot the bill's.

Fair, Spaghetti Supper Pile Up 'Wampum'

Tommy Sue Janke and Ronnie Curren try their luck at the fishpond at the Redskin Pow Wow. A small-fry visitor proudly displays "loot" he has won at booths.

Each year our parents show their interest in our welfare by taking part in the activities of the P-TA and Dads Club. These two organizations work together to sponsor money-making projects which will provide funds for various undertakings and school needs.

The big money-making event for the P-TA comes once a year with the carnival-like spring festival. Called "April in Paris" last year, it has once again been given the name "Pow Wow." Everyone at Manual is invited to bring his friends and parents to a supper in the cafeteria and afterwards to join in the merriment centered around games and booths in the gym. A vaudeville show is also presented in the auditorium by students, in which Redskin Revue stars often participate. The high point of the evening is the announcement of the new Chief and Princess, who have been voted the winners of the popularity contest. Students start campaigning for the contest several weeks before the big night and wait eagerly for the outcome.

Linda Hansen and Martha Goode can't resist the lovely flowers, and Mrs. James Maschmeyer is quick to win them over. Pounding nails can be fun, if it's play and not work. Onlookers watch curiously as two boys demonstrate their prowess.

Parents Purchase New Bus with Earnings

The Dads Club is an equally active organization, backed by faculty men as well as Dads. Their annual fish fry in early September and their spaghetti supper in January were their two lucrative projects. Members and their wives are kept busy at football games in the concession stands, passing hundreds of delicious hot dogs and steaming cups of hot chocolate and coffee over the counter. They also provide hungry basketball fans with popcorn, ice cream, and candy.

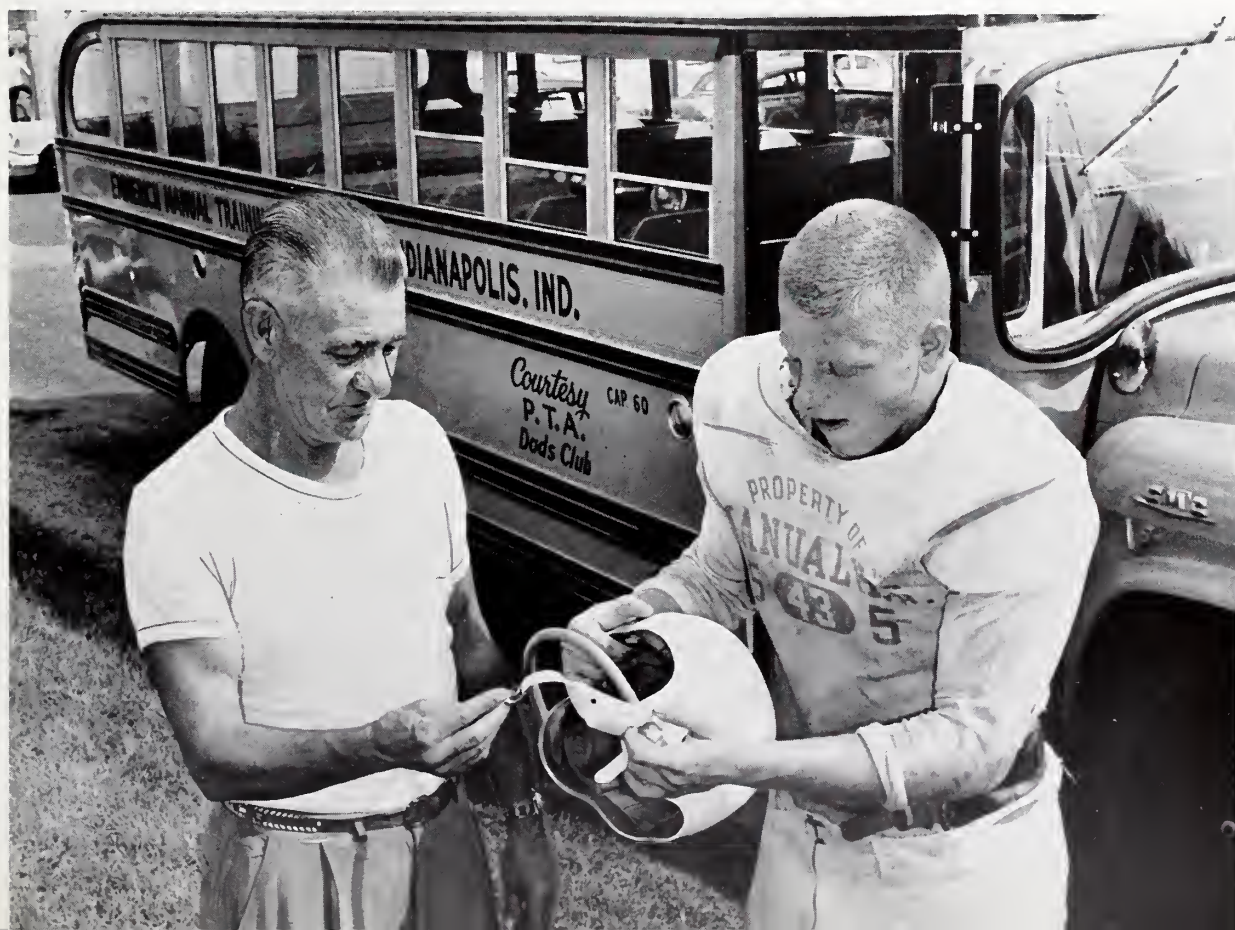

A spanking-new Redskin bus was the big project of the two organizations this year. The 60-passenger GMC, nicknamed "Betsy," is often employed to transport athletic teams, the band, singing groups, and clubs to contests, programs, and meetings. Regular classes use it when taking field trips to business, industries, and colleges.

Monies from the coffers of our two parent organizations also provide scholarships to summer institutes for journalists, cheerleaders, scientists.

Mr. Howard Thrall, Mr. Raymond Van Arsdale, and Mr. Leslie Maxwell sport chef's uniforms to dish up spaghetti in the big supper before the Manual-Tech game.

Bus Driver Robert Sparks, also known as the "Rinky-Dink Coach," and tackle Lanny Gerber engage in friendly chatter in front of the new Redskin bus while they wait for the rest of the team to take off to an away-from-home game.

Candy, Cowboys, Ghosts, Hula Girls Star

Variety is the word for the four acts that comprised our 31st annual vaudeville, the Redskin Revue, presented two nights, March 17 and 18, to full houses. It was co-chairmened by John Hershberger and Sandy Hoffmann. All acts were student written, produced, and directed, with the help of faculty sponsors. Mr. Carl Wright and his industrious stage crew outdid themselves in creating custom-made sets for each act. Student directors had ideas which sounded fantastic on paper, but which did not baffle this enterprising group of stagehands. Their haunted house, which made chills run up the spine, and their candy machine, from which live candies were expelled, were ingenious. The dance band, under the direction of Mr. William Kleyla, had to learn arrangements for 28 numbers to accompany singers, dancers, and provide background music for all acts.

Winning intermission act was Pam Haug, accordionist. Noramae Branham, Pat Thomas, Mary Hawthorne, and Nancy Ferguson teamed up to bring their version of "Alvin's Harmonica." To foster ticket sales, fifteen seniors were divided into two teams of six members each, plus three helpers at large. Champion ticket seller was Oma Birl who sold 330 tickets. Thelma Dick and Sharon Thompson, selling 221 tickets each, tied for second place.

A haunted house was the background for "Frankie's Party," by Donna Monroe and Sandy Robison. Supernatural beings congregated to taste the bewitching brew concocted by Mrs. Frankenstein. Among guests at the midnight get-together were witchettes, Dracula, a Vampire, a quartet of skeletons, dancing mummies, and assorted ghosts. Faculty sponsors for the act were Miss Phyllis Greve and Mr. Ray Hawkins. "Sweetness After Hours," written by Karen Brehob and Mary Agan, and sponsored by Mrs. Mary Alice Taylor and Mr. Jim Guillaume, took place in a candy shop where sweets came to life at midnight. Songs and dances by animated candies combined for a colorful show. "Moving West" was written by Sharon Sarkine and Mike Lewallen. The act showed a wagon train's stop for the night. A surprise Indian attack, a visit from the miner Ike and his famed "Betsy from Pike"; the comical antics of "Pa," and a Can-can chorus line made lively and exciting action. Miss Freda Hart and Mr. Leland Walter sponsored the act. "Hawaiian Holiday," by Jackie White and Fred Kortepeter, featured a Hawaiian village, complete with straw hut, palm trees, and hula girls. Visiting American tourists were shown all the local color by the natives and were honored with a luau feast. Sponsoring the act were Mrs. Jean Shelton and Mr. Ed Hegarty.

"Supernatural monsters" invade the set of "Frankie's Party" at the invitation of Frankenstein and his bride, Lola. With jive-talking ghosts, singing skeletons, mirthful mummies, and bewitching witchettes, the stage is transformed into one huge "Spook Ball." The act, written by Donna Monroe and Sandy Robison, captured "Best Act Award of 1960."

To Make Redskin Revue Smash Hit

A Goodie Shop, stocked with assorted sweets that come to life at midnight, sets the scene for "Sweetness After Hours." Red Hots, Shirley Kratowicz and Art Wade, danced their way to "Best Group" award. To Candy Cuties, Sharon Scholl, Sharon Roeder, Sherry Braun, Nancy Wolford, Linda Hansen, Carole Maier, Mary Tucker, Sandy Tucker, Judy Crouch, and Sharon Baird, went "Best Chorus-line" award.

Mary Beeman as Hilo Hattie and Tom Fink as the professor swing and sway in "Hawaiian Holiday." Both Mary and Tom won awards for their comic portrayals.

"Moving West" are four singing cowboys, Joe Gerber, Wayne Mullen, David Sprague, and Tom Cloyd. Joe Gerber, alias "Pete," copped "Best Male Singer" award.

In 'Our World' Activities

Round Out Our Education

Around the table in the Conference Room, Student Affairs Board members air views.

Top-Rankers Make NHS, Senior Honoraries

Charles Yager, Al Ratz, and Carol Fuchs, first, second, and third in the senior class, line up at the tea table during the April 24 National Honor Society induction.

In its fifth year as an active chapter at Manual, National Honor Society added forty new members to its organization this spring to boost the membership to fifty-four. Chosen by vote of the faculty on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character, twenty-three seniors and seventeen juniors were pinned during a special ceremony, March 23. Pledge ribbons of white, red, green, and purple—symbolizing purity, knowledge, growth, and service—were presented each candidate. To introduce the new members to their parents and classmates, short rhymes about each pledge's activities were read. Following the formal initiation in the Auditorium on Sunday, April 24, a reception, sponsored by the P-TA, honored initiates and their parents. Leading the society this year were President Larry Hall, Vice-President Ed Zaenglein, Secretary Kathy MacKinnon, and Treasurer Janet Wurz. Mr. Edward Wall served as faculty sponsor.

Roines and Masoma, senior honorary organizations for boys and girls, respectively, were organized as service groups in 1914 and have been in continual existence ever since. Both have active alumni groups, and many prominent Indianapolis citizens proudly claim membership in these worthwhile societies.

Members of these active clubs cooperate in any activities that are for the good of the school. Masomas show new freshmen around Manual and sponsor a freshmen mixer at the beginning of each semester. Another service project this year was donating food and clothing to a needy family. Roines' huge Christmas wreath, suspended above the main entrance for the Yule season, is well-known by the community. Roines Study Hall, now in its third year, is a boon to underclassmen needing a helping hand with the books. It meets daily in the cafeteria for half an hour before school begins.

Student Affairs Board Speaks for All Classes

Student Affairs Board, our student council, is made up of representatives from all four classes who work together for the general welfare of the school. Affiliated with the Board is a representative from each Home Room. Faculty sponsors are Mr. John Patten, Mr. Ray Hawkins, and Mr. John Edwards. The Board meets bi-weekly in the conference room, rotating periods. In November this group sponsored the Pigskin Prom, honoring the football team. Student Affairs Board planned the after-basketball-game dances throughout the season. Proceeds from the dance on January 27 were sent to CARE. The Board also sponsored a "clean-up-the-cafeteria" campaign the two weeks before spring vacation. Roines and Masoma members worked with the Board on this project and The Booster publicized it.

Various elections are supervised by the Board throughout the school year. It also sponsors the election of the Chief and Princess for the P-TA Pow Wow. This spring the Board gave a plaque to the school for listing the winning acts of the Red-skin Revue in permanent record. The plaque is housed in the display case in the east entrance of the auditorium foyer.

Meeting deadlines to put Manual in print are Jan Small, Karen Smith, Dorothy Porter, and Michele Perkinson—News Bureau correspondents. Chief photographers for The Booster and Ivian, Bill Schmidt and Ron Cambridge, instruct Apprentices Ted Snider and Tom George in the school's dark room.

Ever 'In the Know,'

"Getting the facts" is the job of Manual's journalists who turn out copy for The Booster, our weekly newspaper, and The Ivian, our yearbook. Since 1912, The Booster has fulfilled its function of preserving in print activities of Manualites. Not only do our publications record our activities, they also promote them. "Explaining America to a Russian" was the theme of the essay contest sponsored by The Booster in order to promote a greater understanding of America. In March The Booster launched its five-week Safety Campaign which featured a Manual Code of Driving Safety, a list of ten driving rules submitted by students.

Putting the Ivian to "bed" was a long-range project which included gathering information for copy, figuring out layouts, setting up pictures, and then putting it all together. To help finance the book, Ivian staffers sponsored the Pic Parade, a dance at which under-class pictures were sold, and the John Henry Hop, a June-3 event for distribution of yearbooks. Keeping the local papers informed on our Manual happenings was our News Bureau.

‘Our World’ Has Stage for Actors,

Giving the jig-saw a workout are Jim Peters, Dave Scheib, and Dick Mescall, as they cut out pieces for columns, part of the set for the operetta, “Beautiful Dreamer.”

In our Manual world, students with a flair for dramatics may join Mask and Wig Club and get a behind-the-scenes’ view of the theater. Not only do students have an opportunity to “show-off” their acting abilities, but they also learn to design and construct sets, and to achieve special lighting and sound effects. Last fall, Mask and Wig staged a three-act comedy and this spring presented the one-act play, “Spreading the News.” Sponsor of the group is Mrs. Mildred Haskens. Students may join National Thespians, Manual’s dramatics honorary, by accumulating points from public appearances—speaking, acting, or singing. A drama, “Jacob Comes Home,” was the major project of the organization, sponsored by Mr. Fred Bennett. Boys comprising the stage crew do not restrict their work to sets for dramatics’ productions. The pounding of hammers, the buzz of saws, and the slapping of paint rarely cease backstage as Mr. Carl Wright’s boys set the stage for every program presented.

Strings, Singers 'Make Beautiful Music'

Manualites interested in music have many opportunities to exhibit their talents in the Orchestra, Glee Club, and Choir. The Orchestra is directed by Miss Margaret Warner. Members accompanied singers in the operetta, joined with the Choir, directed by Mr. Wendell Mertz, to present a concert on March 5, and played for P-TA on April 6. In the Indiana High School Music Association Contest, April 2, the Orchestra won a first division rating. The Choir is asked to perform many times during the school year for various school functions. They sang at "College Night" early fall-semester and for the P-TA, March 2. Both Choir and Glee Club sang for Christmas shoppers on Monument Circle during the Yuletide season, and also performed on the radio program, "Young America Sings," once during each semester.

The All-Girl City Choral Festival was April 5 at Manual, and this year Glee Club girls acted as hostesses. Choir also sang in the All-City Choral Festival in May. The entire music department participated in the Christmas program in the auditorium. The Glee Club, directed by Miss Freda M. Hart, sang a cantata during which tableaux depicting the birth of Christ were spotlighted on either side of the stage.

Many of Stephen Foster's famous songs were sung by Choir members in "Beautiful Dreamer," which was presented November 20. Glee Club sponsored the annual Cherry Tree Hop, a turn-about dance, which featured the crowning of a "George and Martha Washington"—Don Shotts and Bonnie Spreen.

Award-Winning Band Presents Many Faces

The Pep Band in red sweatshirts and with instruments gleaming played up a "storm" at all basketball games.

Our award-winning Band, under the direction of Mr. William Kleyla, has spent countless hours in practice and actual performance. Our top-rated Marching Band has carried off many first-place honors in various contests throughout this year. They paraded with the ROTC and presented spectacular half-time shows at football games. After a season of hard marching, however, the band turns into a Concert Band for the spring semester. It gives an annual concert with the Glee Club, performs in an all-school auditorium, and plays in the ISMA all-state playing contest.

Selected members participate in the Dance Band and the Pep Band, which perform for various school functions. The Dance Band is always in demand for school dances. It also provides accompaniments for the Redskin Revue. The Pep Band, in Redskin sweat shirts, add much color and spice to basketball games with their enthusiastic playing and tom-tom accompaniment to cheers. They really "whooped it up" at pep and victory sessions.

Clubs Supplement Classroom Lessons

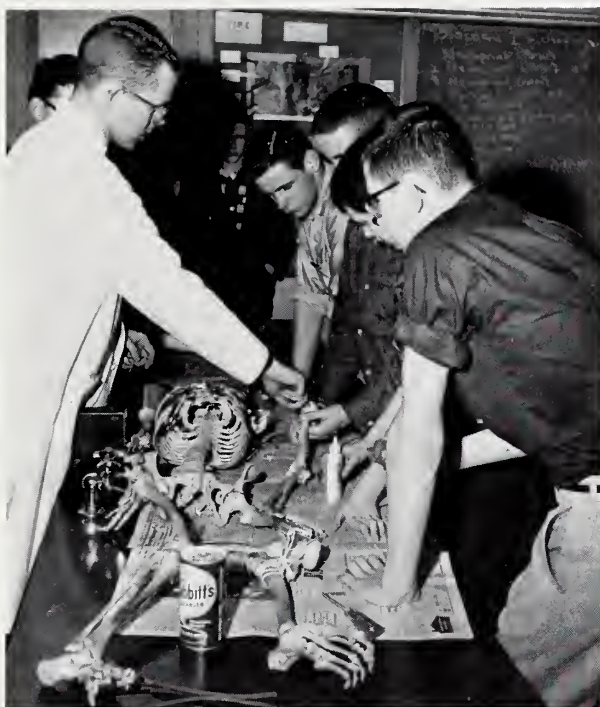

Discussing plans for a future Olympian Council meeting are the toga-clad officers, Janet Dell, vice-president; Larry Rohrman, president; and Mary Neesen, secretary.

Clubs are available for Manualites interested in some particular field of study such as Latin, Science, Social Studies, and Mathematics. The Latin Club, sponsored by Mrs. Nancy Mountjoy, calls itself the Olympian Council. Members attended the state-wide Junior Classical League Convention at Terre Haute in April. The Manual Citizens League members are interested in learning more about our government and how it operates. Their "Food for Thought Contest" which ran in The Booster, gave clues to the identity of famous historical characters. Their sponsors are Mr. Roland Hawkins and Mr. John Krueger.

Each Science Honor Club member has a project to complete during the year. Guest speakers present interesting talks which better acquaint members with all fields of science. Mr. Edward Wall and Mr. Wayne Dunbar co-sponsor this club. Each member of the Math Honor Club gives a lecture at one meeting describing the aspect of mathematics in which he is interested. Mike Steadham, '58, now at Wabash College, was guest speaker on college mathematics. Sponsor is Mrs. Jennie Howe.

MANUAL CITIZENS LEAGUE—STANDING: Ruth Ann Carrier, Sandra Rogers, Carol Fuchs, Winifred Manwaring, Norman Fuchs, Janet Carnes, Marilyn Lynch, Bonnie Burton, Arvel Hornback, Mr. Roland Hawkins, sponsor, Oran Hornback.

Assembling a human skeleton was a project of the Science Honor Club. Assisting Mr. Edward Wall, co-sponsor, are Mike LaFollette, Morris Ball, Tina Linz, and Bob Iverson. Before re-wiring was begun, bones were cleaned.

Experimenting with microscopic photography are members of the Science Honor Club, Arvel Hornback, Barth Ragatz, Tom Fink, Doug Goode, Mr. Wayne Dunbar, and Larry Rohrman.

Our Three 'A' Clubs Fill Busy Schedules

Members of the Future Nurses of America Club at Manual aren't all planning to be nurses. Girls who are interested in all other fields of medicine, can participate in the activities of the club and gain valuable experience that will help them in their future careers. This year, as a community service project, the girls did volunteer work at the Veterans' Administration Hospital. Called "candy strippers," they assisted the nurses, ran errands, and helped care for the patients. Another activity of the club, which is sponsored by Miss Virginia Edds, is having a Christmas party at the Children's Guardian Home.

For girls aspiring to be homemakers there is the Future Homemakers of America Club. Members of the FHA participate in various projects throughout the year which further acquaint them with the duties and problems of the homemaker while they are doing things for others. The girls learn to work together and find that homemaking not only involves cooking and housekeeping but an active social life. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Rovene Yeager and is for every girl who dreams of having her own home some day whether or not she plans to make homemaking her career.

Manual students who one day hope to become teachers can learn more about the daily routine of a teacher and the requirements for teaching in the Future Teachers of America Club sponsored by Miss Margaret Consodine. This year the FTA members devoted a part of their time as student aids to Manual teachers. The students graded papers, recorded grades, and did typing and other jobs during their free periods. For their services the students received honor points. Later, seniors may sign up to be "cadet teacher."

Educational co-ordinator of the Veterans' Administration, Miss Ruth Weinstein, instructs members of the Future Nurses of America Club in volunteer work at the Veterans' Hospital. Miss Virginia Edds sponsors the group.

Rose Mary Ashcraft demonstrates pie making in FHA to Charlene Hodges, Mary Meyer, Sally Brown, Vaida Mikits, Carlene Booth, Jane Perkon, and Mrs. Rovene Yeager.

Martha Melton, Beverly Louks, Linda Thomas, Joan Toenjes, Tina Linz, Kathy White, Julia Walker, Betty Lester, and Sue Elrod, members of Future Teachers of America Club, make plans for their next meeting.

Tri-Hi-Y Serves, Promotes Friendship

The Tri-Hi-Y, although a girls' organization, is affiliated with the Young Men's Christian Association. It helps to promote friendliness and better citizenship. Early in the fall semester members gave a party for prospective members in the cafeteria.

At the Model United Nations, April 20-23, delegates from Manual's Tri-Hi-Y represented the United Kingdom, Panama, and the Philippines. Meetings were at the State House. Dressed in appropriate costumes, delegates gave speeches and had debates about current foreign and diplomatic issues. Sometimes speeches were given in foreign tongues that required translation.

The Tri-Hi-Y is sponsored by Mrs. Jean Shelton.

IAC Shines Cars to Finance Senior Awards

The Industrial Arts Club, sponsored by Mr. Victor McDowell, is made up of students majoring in this department. The club, this year, worked toward setting up an award of $150 to the outstanding senior in Industrial Arts. The $5,000 needed so as to have $150 interest each year will take a long time in the making, but these energetic boys have that never-say-die spirit. Members waxed cars for $5 each with the customer furnishing the wax, and they, the "elbow grease." Faculty and students who wanted shiny cars were glad to take advantage of this project. Just as they have for several years, the members sold red and white Manual Redskin bumper plates. In addition, they retailed boxes of greeting cards for all occasions.

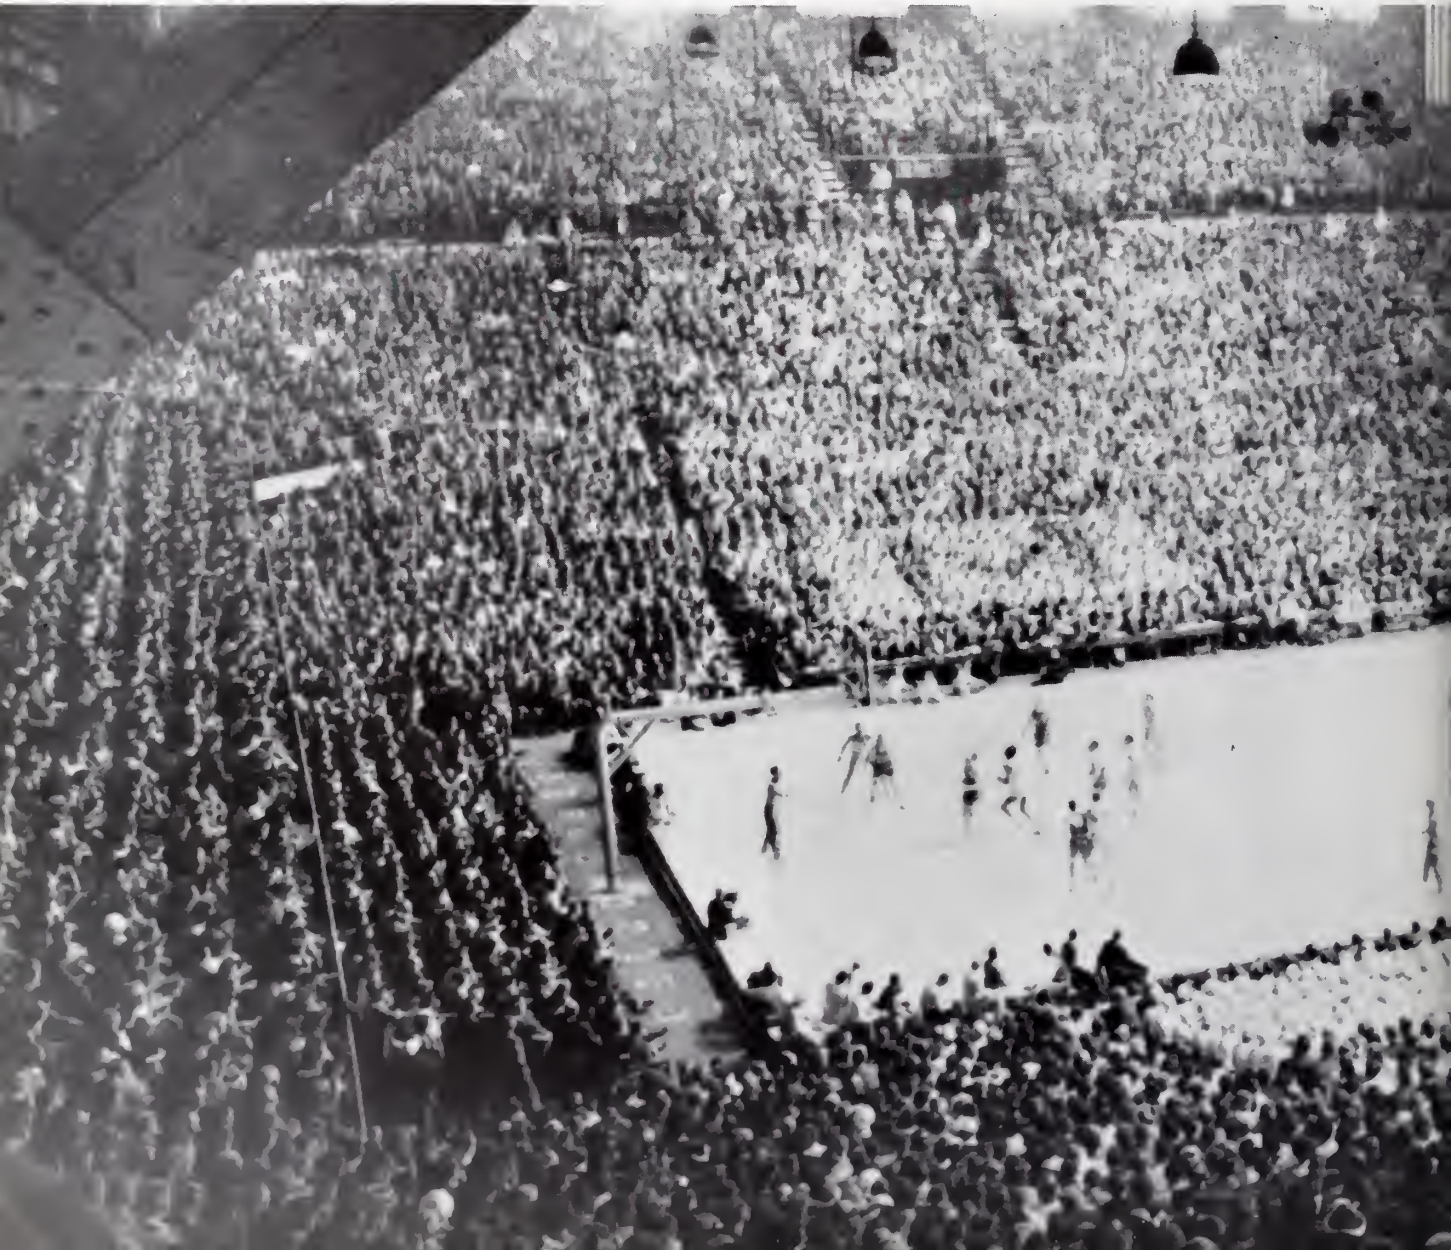

Trips were scheduled by the members on days school was out of session. Such trips have been taken to Western Electric, General Motors, and other industries. Other activities included a fishing contest held during summer vacation at Cordry Lake, which was won by Jim Atkins. Prizes were awarded to all participating. The club is headed by President Charles Wettrick. Other officers include Vice-president Fred Larmore, Secretary Bob Morgan, and Treasurer Jim Atkins.

Many hands make light work of the simonizing job on Charles Wettrick's car. Applying the elbow grease are Mark Williams, Jim Atkins, Paul Kortepeter, Bill Pickeral, Danny Radish, Fred Larmore, Bill Alte, Bob Morgan, and Dennis Browning, members of Industrial Arts Club.

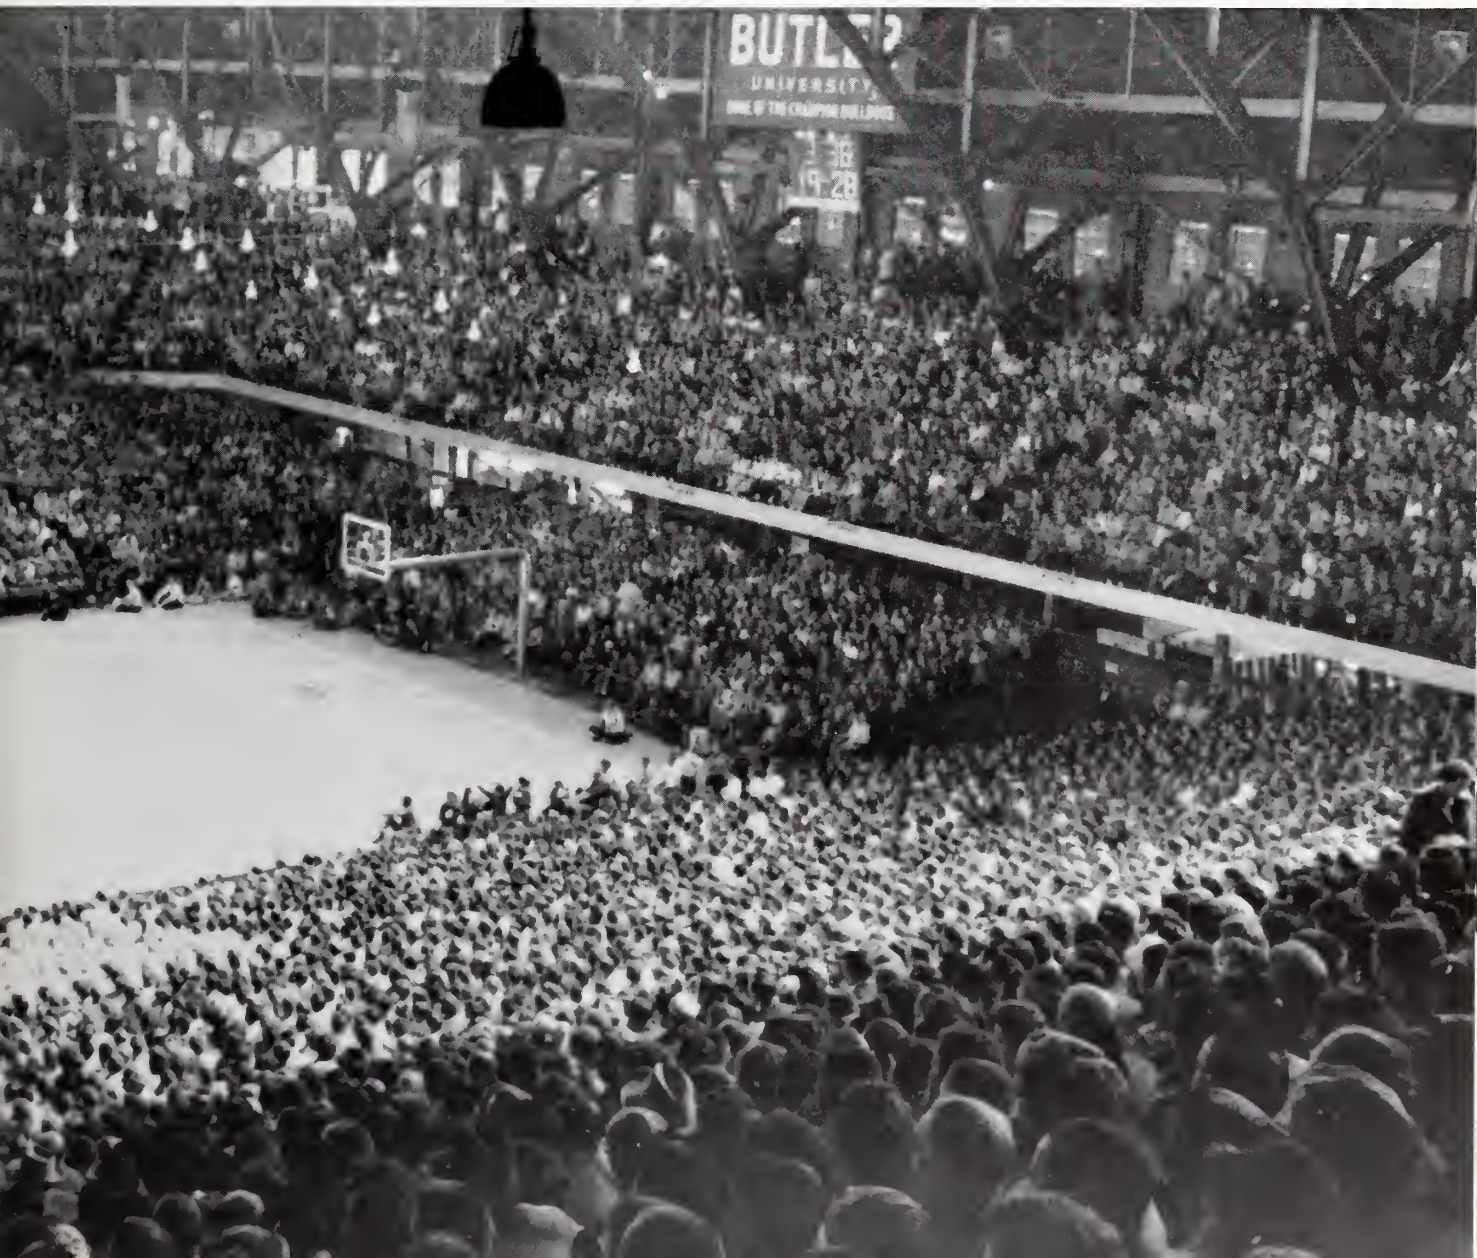

In 'Our World' Athletics

Spark Never-Say-Die Spirit

In the lime-light at the Butler Fieldhouse during the 1960 Regionals is our big Redskin team.

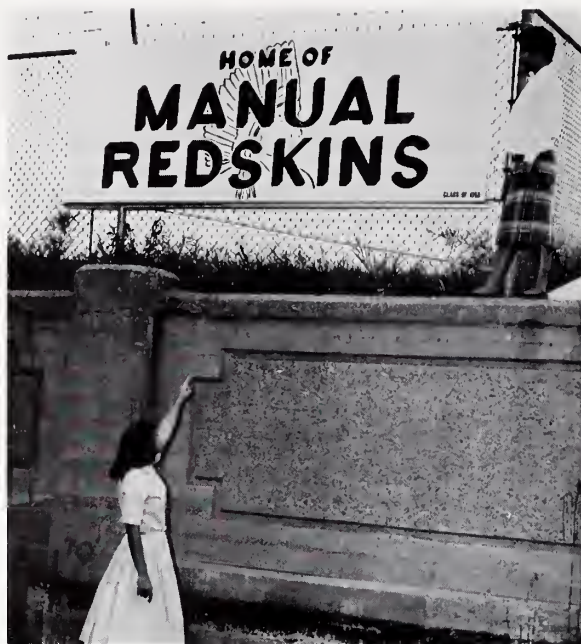

Manualites Back 'Building' Team with Spirit;

Although the '59 grid season was not a successful one as far as points-scored-against-opponents is concerned, Manual's varsity team went through an encouraging building year. Redskin backing and spirit were on a high peak throughout the ten games with both students and patrons filling the stands almost to capacity. This resulted in the Varsity Cheerleaders winning the "Best School Spirit" and the Marching Band, the "Best Football Band"—both Kiwanis' Awards presented on November 27. This award has been won by the band every year for the six it has been offered, and this was the third year the cheerleaders have won the award.

Halfback Don Kleppe and End Larry Short, both juniors, were on the honorable mention lists of all three Indianapolis Newspapers' All-City teams. Larry was also presented Manual's Most-Valuable-Player Award at the Athletic Banquet, November 14. He received the honor by vote of the team, the coaches, and the athletic director. He was also cited by the Downtown Kiwanis Club as the MVP from Manual at their annual football recognition luncheon during Thanksgiving vacation.

Rex Anderson, sophomore fullback, breaks loose for short yardage with Broad Ripple tacklers in hot pursuit.

Seniors Joan Scholl and Lois Helfenberger take a close look at the baked porcelain sign, labeling our athletic field above Madison Avenue. It was a gift from the class of '59.

Most of the second-string team members of the championship '58 gridders carried the Manual colors through the past season with an 0-9-1 record. Against opponents, the Redmen scored a total of 147 points. Leading the scoring was Don Kleppe with 51 points, despite an injury in the Shortridge tussle which kept him from play in the last two games. Larry Short tallied 32 markers, and Sophomore Rex Anderson scored 25 to be next in the point standing column. Halfback Ron Cooper scored 13 points, Junior-end Ed Stiegelmeyer got 12, and Sophomore Halfback Chuck Dennison tallied eight. Although he only scored six points, Dave Scheib, junior passing quarterback, threw a total of nine touch-down passes and one extra point.

The 'Skins opened the season with five consecutive losses. Playing host to the Spartans of Sacred Heart, September 11, Manual took a 33-19 downing. Manual "hit the road" for the first away game of the year against Washington. The Continentals fought off the Redmen with a 27-18 score. The Redskins took on city foe, Howe, September 25 on the home gridiron.

Gridiron Hopes Look Bright for Next Year

The Hornets squeaked by the Redmen, 20-13. Highly regarded Wood downed the 'Skins in the next game, 41-7. Manual traveled to county rival, Southport, on October 9, for the fifth defeat, 27-20. Don Kleppe led the scoring for the first five games with 36 points. Midway in the season, the Manual eleven traveled to Ben Davis to bring home the only tie game of the year, 19-19.

Broad Ripple was the next opponent for Manual, October 21, at the Rocket's field. Because of Redskin fumbles and errors, Ripple defeated Manual, 26-19. On October 30, the eighth game of the ten-game series, the Redmen played host to Shortridge. Halfback Ron Cooper scored Manual's only TD in the 33-6 licking. The Redskins went up against highly-rated state competition in the final two games. Huntington gave the 'Skins a 46-19 decision and City-Champion Cathedral added a 41-7 downing to finish out the '59 football year.

Coach Noah Ellis and his varsity squad, despite a losing year, have accomplished much. In every game the Redmen managed to score at least once. Of the scorers, all will be returning next season. The future for Manual looks good. With an experienced, passing backfield and seasoned line, the Redskins can certainly expect to do well in 1960.

Manual's Reserve Football Team, under the guidance of Coach Jack Johns, turned in a three-win, four-loss record for the seven-game, '59 season. The three teams which the B-men downed were among the top squads in the county. The Redskins downed the Woodchucks of Wood, 13-6; Southport's Cardinals, 27-7; and the Shortridge Blue Devils, 7-0. Sophomore Ron Shaw led the Reserve squad with a total of 24 points of the 74 scored against opponents. Besides Ron, Chuck Dennison and Jerry Schnitzius were also standouts. The Reserve team will provide next year's varsity team with some good potential.

Coach Louis Parnell and his first-year men turned in a very successful season. The frosh topped five teams, tied one, and lost to only one. From this, Manual's freshmen gained a ranking of first in the city. For the past three years, Manual has gained an outstanding record of 18 wins, five loses, and one tie. Fullback Denny Richards tallied 27 markers and Bill Bush got 25 to lead the Redmen in scoring. First-year Quarterback, John Evans, proved to be a valuable prospect for the football squads to come. John has a good passing arm, as well as running ability, scoring 12 points during the season.

Colorful Action Sparks Friday Night Shows

Larry Short gets behind his Wood defender to haul in a pass and carry it for a sizeable gain.

A fumble near midfield caused a scramble for the ball between the 'Skins and the Howe Hornets.

Plunging into the line is hard hitting Sophomore Halfback Don Kleppe. He picked up enough yardage against Washington for a first down.

Cheerleaders Explode with Spirited Chants

Both winning and losing seasons add extra work for cheerleaders. Ours did a terrific job! For their outstanding work during football season, each cheerleader is wearing a gold megaphone on a chain, top award from the Kiwanis Club. Cheerleaders are chosen in the spring and practice throughout the summer, some attending cheerleading camps. Cheersters are judged on appearance, personality, and performing ability.

Much thought and hard work went into planning the pep sessions we had before the Sectional and Regional. Mrs. Thelma Morgan, sponsor, and the cheerleaders kept Manual spirit at top heat during the entire year. Seniors Carolyn Ibaugh and Sue Hawley received letter sweaters. Each year the freshman, reserve, and varsity yell-leaders are honored, along with the teams, at the all-sports banquet and on Athletic Awards Day.

Carter Leads Harriers to Undefeated Season

The hustling harriers finished their first undefeated season since coming to the "new" school with a 7-0 record, defeating Howe, Cathedral, Wood, Broad Ripple, Ben Davis, North Central, and Sacred Heart. Leon Carter set a new course record of 10:22, bettering Larry Chastain's record of 10:51. In the opening meets the 'Skins placed third in both the Washington and Southport Invationals, with Leon Carter winning a gold medal. In the first triangular meet, Manual exploded and came home the victor, defeating Ripple and North Central. Leon Carter paced the harriers to a fifth in the Howe meet with a winning time of 10:21. Only fifteen points separated the first five teams. Manual copped a second and an eighth in the Columbus and Shortridge Invationals, respectively. In their final meet of the year, the harriers placed fifth in the Sectional and missed qualifying for the state meet by one place. Manual's reserve harriers faired well in competition the year round and promise to provide next year's team with plenty of speed.

Sophomore sensation Leon Carter rounds the bench on the last half mile as he is about to set a new Manual course record.

Grapplers Led by Wiley, Defeat State Champs

Manual's matmen completed another fine season with an eight won five lost and one tied record guided by Coaches Jack Foster and Jack Johns. Leading the way throughout the year was Mike Wiley, a ninety-five pound block of muscles. Mike won the City meet, the Sectional, and placed second in the Regional and State meets. Manual's varsity was the only team to defeat Wood, the state-champs, this year; and they placed second to Wood in the Sectional.

The Reserve grapplers showed they had the potential needed to make next year's varsity a threat to the state crown. They completed a finé 10-1 season, their only loss coming at the hands of Broad Ripple. They avenged the loss, however, as they overwhelmed all opponents in their first-place finish in the City. The up and coming freshmen placed third in the City.

Mike Wiley, sensational sophomore, placed second in the state in the 95 pound class. He scored eight points to place Manual thirteenth in the State Meet.

Lettermen Wear Block M's Proudly

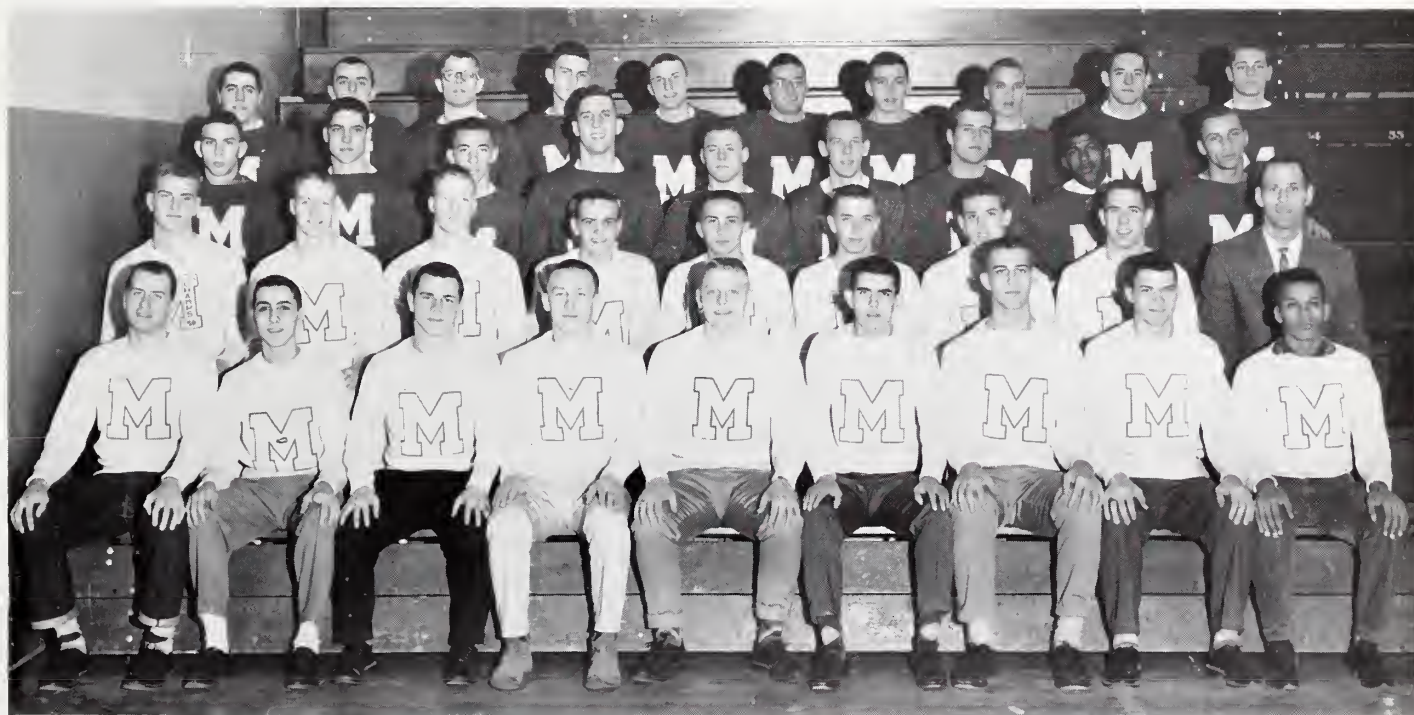

The Alumni Lettermen's Club was founded in 1955 by Mr. Henry Goett, Mr. Frank Cox, Mr. Norman Beplay, and Mr. Walter Floyd. The first meeting was held at Manual on February 18, at the annual Alumni Birthday Party. Members attending were contacted by telephone and came from all over the Mid-West. More than 300 former lettermen attended. At this meeting Mr. Goett was elected president; Mr. Beplay, vice-president; Mr. Cox, treasurer; and Mr. Floyd, secretary. Succeeding presidents have been Mr. Cox, 1956; Dr. William Wright, 1957 (Mr. Jim Wessel completed Mr. Wright's term); Mr. Louis Weiland, 1958; and Mr. William Williamson, 1959.

The purpose of the club is to encourage boys to go out for sports and to promote athletics at Manual. These men do this by attending football and basketball games in a group as the Alumni Lettermen's Club.

The award system used at Manual is a relatively simple one. As a freshman a boy may earn the freshman pin by participation in any sport. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors can qualify for a letter by accumulating 300 points in one sport of which 150 must be varsity points. The block M letter is white and is worn on a white sweater, which must be purchased by the boy.

With the accumulation of 600 points in one sport, juniors and seniors are eligible for the letter-sweater which is red with a white numeral. Of the 600 points 150 must be varsity. By accumulating 2000 points in two or more sports seniors may earn a Manual jacket. They must earn at least 600 points in two sports of which 150 must be varsity. Senior boys who are participating in sports for the first time may poll their points from different sports. They must still accumulate 300 points of which 150 must be varsity won.

Redskins Capture First Sectional Since 1923

Although Manual's semi-state hopes and a chance at the state's top-rated team, Muncie Central, were damped in the final game of the Regional, the Redskin varsity, under Coach Dick Cummins, captured the Sectional title from the defending champion Southport, and reached the final game of second round competition with Tech's Greencлады. The '59-'60 roundballers attained the first Sectional win since 1923 and the best Manual record ever, 23-4. During the last half of the season the 'Skins were rated in the top ten.

Averaging better than 68 points a game, the Redmen gained some knowledge of what is in store for Manual fans next year. The year's varsity was composed of practically all underclassmen. The only senior lost by graduation is Roger Wood, a starting guard, who scored 357 points for the season. Roger was among the three top scorers on the squad and was voted "Most Valuable Player." Despite the 46-45 loss to Tech in the play-off match of the Regional at Butler Fieldhouse, Manual placed all five of the starters on the Indianapolis Star's All Regional Team. Six-foot Jim Cummings ably occupied the other guard slot and scored a total of 167 points. Six-foot three-inch Larry Short occupied the center spot and poured in 209 markers with better than an eight point average for the twenty-seven game season.

The only twin brothers in Indiana high school varsity basketball played Manual's two forward positions. Tom and Dick VanArsdale, the 6'4" third-year twins, scored almost half the total points netted by the Redskins. Dick led the squad with 455 points, getting better than 17 points a game, and winning the Free Throw Award on Awards Day, March 11. Tom meshed 424 markers, averaging 16 points.

The season opened with the Irish of Cathedral downing the 'Skins, because of a fourth quarter let-down, 59-51. Terre Haute Gerstmeier played a deliberate ball game but found themselves on the low end of a 75-59 score. The 'Skins won their next three games by romping over Sacred Heart, 79-45; Ben Davis, 75-46; and down-state rival, New Albany, 78-60. In the first five games of the basketball year, Manual's scoring average per game was better than 71 points.

Going into the City Tourney with a 4-1 record, the Cumminsmen's first victory was over Broad Ripple 74-46. The second game was with defending state champion Crispus Attucks. Manual used its superior rebounding and hot shooting to down the Flying Tigers 64-57. Tech, using a full-court pressing defense on the tiring Redmen, stopped the Manual bid for a City Tourney Championship, 54-51.

Dick and Tom VanArsdale scramble for possession of the ball against Washington. Jim Cummings goes in for a jump shot against New Albany's Bulldogs. Leon Carter watches his free-throw hit its mark.

In the sixth game of the regular season with Broad Ripple, who was beaten by the 'Skins just the week before, Manual again defeated the Rockets, 66-50. Shooting .492 to Madison Heights' .400, The Redmen shaded the Pirates, 61-57. The third of four losses came when the Redmen were ambushed by a surprisingly hot shooting Columbus team, 70-64.

Following the Columbus game, Tech visited Manual only to go home a defeated ball club 64-46. The Tech win started a string of ten wins and a record of 18-3 before the Sectional. The last two victories of the regular season were over highly ranked Seccina by one point and over Southport by seven to avenge last year's 55-51 defeat during the season.

Larry Short shoots a jump shot from the corner as Jim Cummings follows in. Tom VanArsdale jockeys for position for the rebound. Dick VanArsdale goes high to outdistance two Cathedral opponents for a tip-in as Roger Wood watches.

Record, Hot at 23-4

Manual opened competition at the Southport Sectional determined to bring home a Sectional title. The first win was over lowly Greenfield and the second over a strong Franklin Township team. The 'Skins lashed Vernon Township and then pulverized Southport 71-61. Moving into the Indianapolis Regional, the Team downed a hot shooting team from North Salem in the afternoon 71-51. In the final tilt of the year, the same last second Tech strategy and untimely Manual fouling caused Manual's elimination 46-45.

Manual's freshmen ended the '59-60 season winning seven of fifteen games, under the guidance of Coach Gene Bennett. The Frosh won over Cathedral, Shortridge, Wood (2), Eastwood, Ben Davis, and Warren Central. Coach Woody McBride and his Reserve team turned in a fine 16-4 record for the year — the best reserve record ever.

Tom Van Pitches No Hitter; Team Posts 7-7

Tom Van Arsdale goes into a windup as he shows the form he used in disposing of Crispus Attucks with a no-hitter.

Coach Woody McBride's varsity diamondmen wound up the 1959 season with a respectable 7-7 record. In one of the most thrilling games of the year, Tom Van Arsdale pitched a no-hitter against Attucks. Leading the defensive team were Steve Wright, one of the leading pitchers, Dave Richards, outstanding outfielder, and Infielders Ron Wood, Bill Hair, Vasco Walton, and Dave Miller. The offensive department was sparked by such power hitters as Dave Richards who had two homers, and Ron Wood and Dave Miller with one home run each. Dave led the team at the plate batting at a .375 clip, and was selected MVP.

In the first game of the year Manual won a squeaker from Franklin Township 3-1. Dave Richards hit two homers and Dave Miller, one, to lead Manual over Ben Davis 9-5. The 'Skins went on a hitting barrage and downed Warren Central 9-3. Behind the no-hit pitching of Tom Van Arsdale the 'Skins defeated Attucks 12-1. Broad Ripple and Southport dropped the Redmen 12-3 and 11-3 respectively; but the diamondmen retaliated in whitewashing Greenfield, 6-0. Manual downed Sacred Heart 4-1, while losing to Cathedral 2-1. The final diamond win was over the Howe Hornets.

The Reserves showed power and promise chalking up a 9-4 record. Norm Bullard and Dick Van Arsdale pitched 4-0 and 4-1 records respectively. Ed Stieglmeyer gave the B's their punch blasting five home-runs.

Teemen Divide Season; Tennis Makes Debut

Manual's divot diggers ended last spring's season with a 9-6 record, under the guidance of Coach Oral Bridgford. They tied Shortridge with 351 points for a sixth place finish in the City Tourney. Led by Richard Lucas and Maurice Metzger, who shot consistently low, the golfers completed a successful season. Lucas posted the low score of 74. Although the fall campaign was a short one, the linksters tied southside rival Southport, 6-6. They also participated in the city-county meet. Lucas again scored the low of 74.

For the first time since 1933, Manual has a tennis team. Under the coaching of Mr. Leland Walters, the Redskin racket squad participated in regular tennis matches and also in the City Tourney. Tennis has been in Indianapolis since 1946, with Shortridge, Broad Ripple, Cathedral, and Howe the first schools having the sport. Garfield Park served as the home court. Since the yearbook went to press before the season was completed, the first season record will appear in the 1961 Ivian.

Tracksters Win Two Third Places in State

Manual's varsity ovalmen ended a fine '59 season posting a 12-4 record. The Mo-men picked up 20 points for a fourth-place finish in the Washington Sectional. Six boys qualified for the regionals, with Ken Graves bringing home the only blue ribbon with a 49'9½" heave in the shot put. From the regionals Manual qualified Ken Graves in the shot put, and John Curlin in the mile, for the state meet. Both boys finished third. In the annual City Meet the thinlies placed fifth.

Records fell by the wayside as the Mo-men were nothing short of tremendous. Two all-time records were set with Ken Graves throwing the shot 51'6¾", and Tom Van Arsdale clearing the bar at 6'1" in the high jump. New school records which fell were the mile, which John Curlin ran in 4:36.2, the half mile, which Larry Chastain ran in 2:06, and both hurdle records. Tom Van Arsdale set a new record 21.4 in the low hurdles. John Stafford, Ray Schultz, and Dick Van Arsdale ran a 16.4 to set a new high hurdle record.

Manual's Rhinies finished the year with a 10-1 record. The Frosh also won the City Meet, defeating Tech by one point, with Leon Carter setting a new freshman record in the half-mile. An all-time City record of 1:38.5 was set by the half-mile relay team. In a return meet with Tech the Frosh won 59-58.

Frosh Capture City Title; Set New Record

Ed Tucker displays the form he used in posting the seasons best broad jump—19'5". Jerry Yates goes up and over the bar in the pole vault, clearing at 11' to tie Jim Mahan for the season record. Tom Van Arsdale practices hard in the shot put. Early in the 1960 season Tom broke the all-time Manual record with a heave of over 53 feet.

Gym Classes Stress Physical Fitness

Junior Begley, freshman, demonstrates tumbling skills in preparation for the Decathlon, which is held each spring.

Harry Fox, freshman gym leader, goes up and over the horse as he shows other boys in his class one of the skills which will be done during the class session.

In gym classes, boys are given a vigorous workout daily to keep in the best physical condition possible. Boys work at calisthenics before going on to other specialized skills. Each spring the Decathlon offers boys a chance to display their skills on the apparatus, co-ordination in exercises, and sports excellency. During the fall the gym classes go outside to play touch football; and in the winter they are given a chance at basketball. At the first sign of spring all boys go to the track to run the quarter-mile.

Boys intra-mural sports, including bowling and basketball, are sponsored by Mr. Gene Harvey. In bowling, trophies are presented to the best team and high scoring individuals. Name of the winning basketball team makes a plaque in the trophy case.

Junior John Hurt uses the parallel bars to complete a handstand, one of the many apparatus events which build arm muscles.

Boys, Girls Play Intra-mural Sports

All girls are interested in good figures and correct posture. Gym classes help girls attain these qualities, as well as give them added poise.

Many girls, not enrolled in gym classes, take part in the diversified intra-mural sports program after school. In the fall, tennis and archery are offered; and girls go to Garfield Park in suitable weather for outdoor play. Sara Shank Golf Course is used by the "tee-girls" for instruction or a round of golf. Girls meet twice a week during the winter months for volleyball. Badminton, softball, ping pong, golf, and tennis occupy spring afternoons. All sports are instructed by Miss Theo Parr and Miss Elena Raglin.

Girls and boys have a bowling league during the winter under the direction of Mr. Gene Harvey.

The leading Intramural Volleyball Team, the "Sophies," have been playing together for the past two years. They have won the tournament both years. FRONT ROW: Shirley Jones, Sharon Smith, Captain Carol Moore, JoAnn Kattau, Linda Caviness. BACK ROW: Lenora Brown, Vickie Jenkins, Mary Winstead.

The girls in one of the advanced gym classes are performing a difficult balancing act. They are Janet Taylor, Joann Burrello, Beverly McVicker, and Ruth Ann McClain.

In 'Our World' We

Develop Lasting Friendships

Taking advantage of the spring-like weather, Manualites scurry to classes across campus.

Our Faculty Likes 'Our World,' Joins in Fun

Attending the operetta "Beautiful Dreamer," presented last fall, Principal C. Edgar Stahl and Mrs. Stahl are greeted at the door of the auditorium by Junior Sharon Scholl.

Teachers are human, and our faculty proved it by stepping out of their class-room roles into the farcical roles in Moliere's play, "The Affected Young Ladies." The faculty play, one of three one-act plays presented in the Auditorium on April 1, centered around a father and his attempt to marry off his daughter and niece to two Parisian noblemen. Cast in the play were Mr. Wayne Dunbar, Mr. Thomas Taylor, Mr. Harold Boese, Miss Patricia Barnes, Miss Judith Rodman, Miss Elizabeth Goett, Mr. Noble Poole, Mr. Millard Arnold, Mr. Carl Wright, Mr. Walter Floyd, and Mr. Don Bryan. Our faculty showed they are just as capable as students of "hamming it up" at the proper moment. In addition to participating in their own activities, including the annual weekend workshop at Bradford Woods near Martinsville, our faculty were also behind-the-scenes participants in our activities. Directing our operetta and concerts, sponsoring our Redskin Revue acts, attending and backing our athletic events, and counseling us for scholastic competition, our faculty demonstrated their interest in our Manual world.

Attempting to set his daughter and niece straight on matrimonial matters in the faculty play, "The Affected Young Ladies," Mr. Harold Boese as Gorgibus sighs in despair while Miss Patricia Barnes and Miss Judith Rodman, as the affected young ladies, appear innocently smug.

'Success' Keynotes Year for Class of '60

Officers of the Class of '60, Ed Zaenglein, president; Janis Small, vice-president; Bob Cooper, treasurer; and Sue Ennis, secretary have an informal meeting on the front steps.

"Success Forever—Failure Never" is the motto of the 1960 Senior Class, largest graduating class in the history of Manual with some 380 members. Class activities officially got under way on Senior Day, October 21, when all seniors wore the traditional arm band in senior colors, red and white. This year's design was by Bonnie Graves. After attending regular classes, seniors ended "their" day with a class meeting and dance.

Seniors entertained the Freshmen at the annual Christmas Party, with Santa paying his yearly visit. John Hershberger with his deep baritone voice made a convincing St. Nick. Another colorful activity was the Senior-Faculty Valentine Tea in the Home Economics Dining Room. Members of the Council entertained and served the teachers during the eighth and ninth periods.

Class gift was a Thermostat Copying Machine for the main office. Re-establishing an old tradition, the class has had its own lunch line and dining section in the cafeteria. Finale for the four big years is the Senior Prom at the Indiana University Medical Center.

Rex Price explains senior activities to Marianne Hayes, who came from Ladoga to join the class in March. Senior dates are listed in the Memorial Bulletin in the Cafeteria (Senior Home Room.) It was a gift for the use of all senior-classes-to-come from the parents of Richard Paterson who would have graduated with this class.

Our yearbook is a panoramic view of Our Manual World. June marks the end of our 180-day journey around it. Since September, our orbit of classes, class-mates, parties, proms, tourneys, tennis-matches, operettas, oratorical contests—has kept us in a whirl. As seniors, we are beginning another journey—in the outside world. As underclassmen, we will return next fall to launch another 180-day trip . . .
